

Figure 11: Two-dimensional, top-down trajectory plot for an evolved solution and an early generation candidate solution from Trial 4. The grey circle represents the area of fitness reward. The evolved solution is initially displaced by the flow before identifying the direction of flow, reacting to it and then achieving station.